N. B.—It should be understood by the reader that the division of the different books of the New Testament into chapters and verses was the work of men; and it must be confessed, with deep regret, that the work, as a whole, was very poorly done; a chapter sometimes ending where perhaps only a semi-colon or even a comma should have been used; and a verse often ending where the slightest division was required. Such errors tend to obscure the sense.

Yet, because all Biblical literature is based upon the above unfortunate divisions, this present work follows the same order with a few exceptions. The purpose has been, however, to divide the translated matter into paragraphs, rather than to make each verse (as in King James' version) appear as a paragraph.

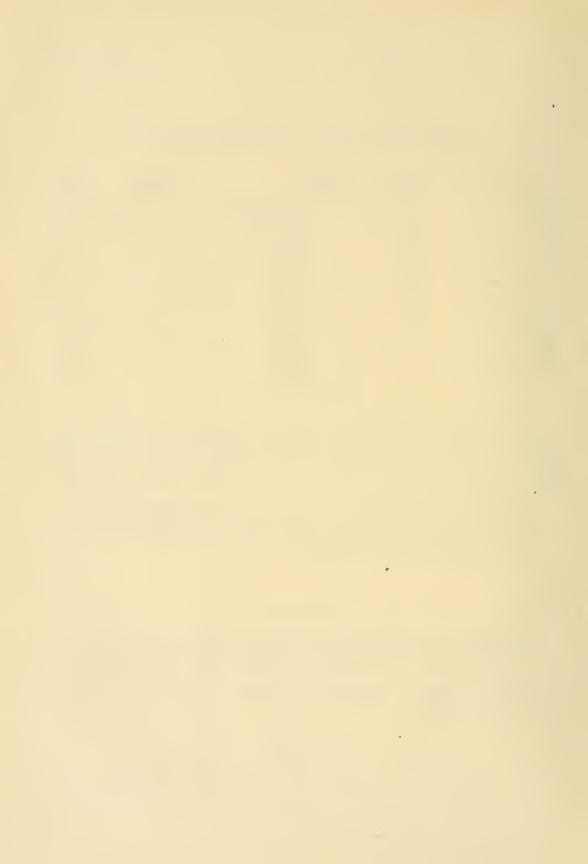

APPENDICES.

Appendix (A) furnishes tables of weights, measures and values.

Appendix (B) gives some hints as to how to use the word in its application to others.

Appendix (C) supplies a brief outline of the faith and practice of an ideal assembly of God.

Appendix (D) furnishes an alphabetical list of subjects that may supply material for many readings and studies.

PREFACE.

This Book, in this particular form, is the outgrowth of a solemn conviction that such a work was required of the writer by Him Whose he is, and Whom he seeks to serve. No conviction less than this could have sustained the writer during the two years and a half he has, largely, devoted to this work. The work has been done with the view of pleasing the Supreme Critic, at Whose judgment bar he will have to account for the manner in which He has handled His word; hence, the all-controlling motive has been to please Him Who is to be his Final Critic and Judge.

The work has been begun and prosecuted under the distinct conviction that these New Testament Scriptures, with which the writer has been concerned, are the veritable word of God-His last revelation to this sin-cursed world. Had he believed that these Scriptures were inspired only in "spots," he never could have had the courage to undertake such a task. Or, had he believed that any of the New Testament teachings have become effete, or that they mean less than they did when first given, he would have no heart to embark upon such an enterprise, as their translation and publication. Believing, however, with all his heart, that these Scriptures contain nothing but "live matter;" that they are as true now, and as applicable to man's needs as a tripartite being, as they ever were; and that God stands ready to verify all the promises He has given the world and His people in this Book, when His conditions have been met; the writer, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit (as he believes), undertook the immensely responsible task of furnishing to the public, a correct and literal translation of these Scriptures, put up in good style, with brief notes designed to help the ordinary Christian, who has no knowledge of the original Greek.

Coupled very closely with a desire to please God by rendering whole-hearted obedience to Him in His requisition upon the writer to execute this work, has been the desire—amounting well-nigh to a passion—to glorify Him by this same work. A strong desire, therefore, to please and glorify the Triune God, has glowed in the writer's heart from the time the work began, two and a half years ago; and, with intense gratitude to the Author and Source of all good, he records the (to many) astonishing fact that, during all the labor of translation and preparation of the notes, he has never realized any fatigue, in body or mind, worth noticing. On the contrary, his very spirit, soul, and body, have glowed, much of the time, with an exhilaration that he could but credit to Him Whom he had undertaken to serve, please, and glorify, in the execution of this work.

Of course, absolute perfection is not claimed for this work; but we are confident that there are many improvements, which the intelligent reader will not fail to recognize, and especially in the following particulars: 1. In the capitalization of the initial letter of every pronoun referring to Deity; as, God Who, instead of God who or God which. 2. In restricting the solemn form of the pronouns and verbs to Diety alone; using the common uniformly in all other cases; as, The Father loveth the Son; The disciple loves his Savior. 3. In the use of quotation marks to enclose a direct quotation; as, The Pharisee prayed thus within himself, "Lord, I thank Thee that I am not as other men." 4. In the use of pronouns; as, "Happy are those who mourn," instead of the usual translation, "Blessed are they that mourn." 5. In the clipping of thousands of uns from the preposition unto; as, "He gave the book to me," instead of "He gave the book unto me," where the un is not only (in such cases) useless, but decidedly clumsy and inelegant. In these five particulars alone many thousands of improvements are made even over the late revision of the American Commission, and that also of the English.

Then, in the matter of translation, the present work claims far greater fidelity to the original Greek—especially in the use of two important words—than any revision except a few that, like this, have been by individuals; viz., baptidzo and ecclesia. Had King James, and all others since his day, dealt honestly with these two words, Christendom would not be torn up into shreds, and divided up into competing or hostile factions, as it now is. Had all these revisers correctly translated instead of transferred, the Greek word baptidzo, Christendom would not be compelled to blush at the immense absurdity of calling three entirely different acts baptism. Had they translated baptidzo immerse—which the scholarship of the world required—no one would have been so simple as to call either sprinkle or pour immersion; but as they failed to translate baptidzo, those who are ignorant of the Greek had no certain means of knowing that immersion, sprinkling, and pouring might not all find shelter under this untranslated word, baptize or baptism. Had they translated baptidzo immerse, then every one would have known that sprinkling and pouring were not immersion. Thus an immense wrong has been done in failing to translate baptidzo.

Then a failure properly to translate ecclesia has, likewise, wrought untold mischief. The word [compounded of ek out of, and kaleein to call—hence to call out, or those called out from the world to be disciples of Christ], rightly translated, would have afforded no shelter for the vast ecclesiasticisms that have overshadowed and wellnigh crowded out of being the simple, independent, local assemblies, that were established in the first centuries of Christianity. Ecclesia should have been translated assembly or congregation; and this would have been a rebuke to those who would swallow up all local assemblies in a consolidated denomination, or ecclesiasticism.

The word Sabbaton [a rest day, or period of rest] has been fearfully juggled with. It never means week. And, through the false translation of the word, the Christian Sabbath has been greatly abused. The proper translation of Matt. 28:1, and kindred Scriptures, will leave us a Christian Sabbath, "the first, foremost, or queen of Sabbaths." "Now, in the end of Sabbaths [the whole tribe of weekly Sabbaths, special weekly Sabbaths, Fast Sabbaths, and yearly Sabbaths—all of which were types of the Anti-typical Sabbath] at the dawning toward the First day of Sabbaths [the resurrection day of our Savior], came Mary Magdelene and the other Mary to see the sepulcher." All types give way to their anti-types. The resurrection day of Jesus Christ is the most important day, thus far, in the history of our planet. Let it, therefore, have its proper place.

The Greek tenses. It is astonishing to note the little regard paid to the Greek tenses by the revisers under King James, and by the late English and even American Commission. Few, indeed, have "The courage of the Greek tenses," or courage to translate them as they are. Rotherham and Young nearly always translate the tenses correctly; the late lamented Broadus comes next (so far as the writer's information extends) in his fidelity to the tenses; and both the American and the English revisions have made great improvement over the revisions of King James in regard to their rendering of the tenses, though both of the former are singularly lax in their hand-iing of the aorist indicative. If these Scriptures are truly inspired, they must have been verbally inspired; and, if verbally inspired, the tense of every verb must have been inspired; and, being inspired, every tense ought to be duly translated. To handle the tenses carelessly, is to trifle with the word of God. The writer has dealt with the tenses as themselves inspired, and he has not dared to translate them otherwise than is required by the genius of the Greek language. He has translated the present tense to correspond to the "common," "progressive," or "emphatic" form of the English present, as the sense seemed to require; the Greek imperfect, which denotes incomplete or habitual action in past time, into the progressive, or frequentative imperfect tense in English; and the aorist indicative, as the imperfect indefinite in English, to denote completed action in indefinite past time. These are the three tenses that are most difficult to render; the present perfect, future, and future perfect in Greek, meaning about the same as the corresponding tenses in English It is the business of the translator to translate with scrupulous exactness; and it is the business of the reader to understand and interpret the meaning; the former being concerned to express in English, (or any other language), just what the Greek (or the language to be translated) says; and the latter, to get the best possible meaning out of what is said. Many translators seem to have had in their minds just what ought to have been said, and they often disregard the Greek tenses to sustain their antecedent assumptions. In this work, the writer endeavored to lay aside, as far as possible, all pre-conceived and inherited notions of this inspired Book, and went to work to get at just what it teaches; and, as he has been enabled to grasp the meaning of the Greek, he has faithfully, and in the fear of God alone, endeavored to express it in pure, up-to-date English.

There is yet one other matter the writer has not felt free to copy from others; viz., the habit of transferring a participial modifier of the subject to the predicate, and make it a part of a compound predicate; as, "and having taken a towel, He girded Himself," instead of, as some revisions have it, "and took a towel and girded Himself." This may make the same general meaning, but it is not true to the Greek; and, besides, it assumes the right to put in an "and" that is not found in the Greek. This is a very common occurrence in most translations.

It is needless to say, after what has been said above, that this book appears in the interest of no denomination of Christians; nor does the writer expect any of them, as such, to adopt it; albeit, he does expect intelligent Christians, into whose hands it may fall, who are hungering and thirsting for the Gospel of Christ, to appreciate it; and to help in its distribution over the land, regardless of all petty sect opposition. The writer feels sure that those who read and study this version carefully and prayerfully, in connection with the notes, will be led to drop many of the traditions of men, and come into the possession of a much larger Gospel, than has been ordinarily dealt out to them. The Gospel of Christ, in its fullest meaning, and with all its provisions for the wants of our sinful race, is none too large; and it has been one aim with the writer, all the way through, to bring out, so far as he has been able, the whole truth, "as truth is in Jesus."

"But are you not fearful that your plain translation will injure the sale of the book?" No; not in the least; for money has nothing to do with it. A billion of dollars could not change the translation of either baptidzo or ecclesia. This work has been done as to the Lord; and it is His, and all the net proceeds will be His. We look to Him, therefore, to manage to give it a wide circulation for His own glory. Of course, the co-operation of the lovers of His truth will be gratefully acknowledged.

It should be remarked that the Greek text of Westcot and Hort, as modified by that of Scrivener and others, has been used in the preparation of this work.

TO THE READER.

- 1. The italic words in the body of the Scripture have no word answering to them in the Greek text, but are often understood, or implied; as, "If the world hates you, ye know that it has hated Me, before it hated you."
- 2. The words of Scripture that are to be explained in the notes, appear in italics; as, He will give you another Advocate; the Father will give the obedient believer who loves Jesus another Advocate, meaning here the Holy Spirit. The explanation immediately follows the italic words.
- 3. The alternative renderings appear just below the body of the Scripture and just above the notes.
- 4. Whenever the word Heaven appears with an initial capital H, it refers to the abode of God, or the place where the Heavenly hosts abide. When it is written, heaven, with a small h, or in the plural, heavens, it means the regions above the earth, or the firmament.

Special to the Reader.—1. Understand, dear reader, that present and eternal interests will be subserved by a real understanding, involving an experimental knowledge, of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

- 2. If you really desire such an understanding of these Scriptures, you must be taught by the Holy Spirit, (John 14:26; 16:13, 14).
- 3. The Holy One will delight to teach you, if you will receive Him, and yield yourself to His teaching and guidance, (Luke 11:13; John 14:15–17, 26).
- 4. Understand, too, that a willingness to do the will of God is one of the best preparations for receiving a knowledge of His will, (John 7:17).
- 5. As Christ is the Essence of the Gospel, seek, with all your heart, to know Him. Open the door of your heart to Him, and let Him in, (Rev. 3:20); and then, as the Holy Spirit enables you to come into heart-union with your Savior (Eph. 3:16, 17; John 14:17-21), make it a matter of the very first concern to continuously abide in Him, and cherish His abiding in you, (John 15:4, 5).
- 6. By all means, find time to study the word—some portion of it—every day; invoking the Spirit to teach you its real meaning.
 - 7. Study all the references carefully and prayerfully.
- 8. Study the word under the distinct conviction that it is the inspired word of God; and seek, in the study of it, to grasp all its teachings, clearly taking in every doctrine, promise, principle, and precept, as well as every provision of the Gospel for all the needs of mankind; devoutly praying that you may have grace to appropriate every provision for your spirit, soul, and body, and thus come to have, so far as possible, an experimental knowledge of it.
- 9. Finally, seek to convey to others, as far as you can, the knowledge thus acquired, to the praise and glory of God.
 - 10. Study the contents, or outline, of each book, before entering upon its study.

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW.

GENERAL REMARKS ON THE FOUR GOSPELS.

In the wisdom of God He has given four independent accounts of the life and ministry of our Lord Jesus Christ, In the first three there is much in common, both in the matter and the arrangement; each writer having his own peculiar style. John's Gospel speaks of the Divine Christ, and details some of His sublimest teachings, with but little in common with the other three. The main purpose for which John's Gospel was written is stated in John 20:31: These are written, that ye may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that, believing, ye may have

MATTHEW.

Matthew, called also Levi, was one of the twelve apostles. He was a tax-collector under the Roman government, (Matt. 9:9; 10:3); but when Jesus called him into His service, he left all, and followed Him. Matthew, it appears, wrote his Gospel in Hebrew [or a later Hebrew called Aramaic]; and, later, it was translated into Greek. He seems to have written more particularly for the Jewish Christians. His Gospel was written, it is thought, as early as A D. 38.

REMARKS ON CHAPTER IV.

- 1 The Devil, or Satan, called also the Adversary, the Serpent, Beelzebub, Prince of the Power of the Air, and the Accuser, is a fallen being of great power. There is but one Devil; but there are countless demons, who are subordinated to him, and ready to execute his will.
- 2 Those who quote Scripture to pervert it, ought to know that they are in the service of the Devil.

CHAPTER XII.

THE DISCIPLES PLUCK HEADS OF GRAIN.

1 At that time Jesus went on the sabbath through the grain-fields; and His disciples were hungry, and began to pluck heads of grain, and to eat. 2 But the Pharisees, seeing it, said to Him, "Behold, Thy disciples are doing that which it is not lawful to do on a sabbath."

3 But He said to them, "Did ye not read what David did, when he was hungry, and those with him? 4 how he entered into the house of God, and ate the showbread, which it was not lawful for him to eat, nor for those with him, but THE PHARISEES PLOTTING. only for the priests? 5 Or did ye not read in the law that, on the sabbath, the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are guiltless? 6 But I say to you, a greater than the temple is here. 7 And, if ye had known what this means, 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice,' ye would not have condemned the guiltless; 8 for the Son of Man is Lord of the sabbath."

JESUS HEALED A WITHERED HAND.

9 And, having passed on thence,

A SIGN REFUSED.

1 And the Pharisees and Sadducees, coming near, tempting Him, asked Him to show them a sign from the heaven; and He, answering, said to them, "When of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadit is evening, ye say, 'It will be fair, for the heaven is red;' 3 and in the morning, 'To-day, a tempest; for red is the overcast heaven.' The face of the heaven, indeed, ye know how to discern, but the signs of the times ye can not discern. 4 An evil and adulterous generation is seeking after a sign; and no sign will be given to it, except the sign of Jonah the prophet." And, leaving them, He departed.

1 Or. dispensation.

NOTES ON CHAPTER XXIV.

This prophecy has a double reference; first, to the destruction of the temple and Jerusalem; and, secondly, to the close of this age, or dispensation; the former being a local type of what is to be world-wide in the latter. (Luke 21:36; Rev. 3:10). The providential coming of the Son of Man to destroy the temple and city, which was to be done before that generation should pass away, shadows forth His majestic coming at the end of the age.

1 The temple; built after the return from the Babylonish captivity, and greatly enlarged by Herod, but finally destroyed in A. D. 70 under orders of the Roman general Titus.

2 Thrown down; indicating the violence with which the temple was destroyed about thirty-seven years later.

4-8 The events here prophesied of had their primary fulfillment between 33 and 70. A. D.; but they are to have a much wider fulfillment just preceding the visible second coming of Christ, (Zech. 14:3-21; Rev. 19:11-21); the great tribulation period of (possibly) seven years, occuring hetween the pre-tribulation rapture (note on 1 Thess. 4:15-17). and His visible coming with His saints (Zech. 14:5; Jude 14), to restore order to this planet, and inaugurate His blissful reign. (Rev. 20:1-1; Zech. 14:9; Isa. 65:17-25). "I am the Christ;" history informs us that there were such claimants before the destruction of Jerusalem; and others are making the same impious claim now.

(Col. 1:6, 23; Rom. 10:18); but it is to be "preached in all the world for a testimony to all the nations." and for gathering a people from among the gentiles for His name, before His visible second coming, (Acts 15:14). The Gospel of the Kingdom, or the good news of the coming Kingdom, has not been very generally preached.

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MARK.

Mark, the author of the second Gospel, is believed to be the same as John Mark, referred to in Acts 12:12, 25: 15:37; Col. 4:10, etc. He was the son of Mary, and cousin of Barnabas. He was probably converted through the instrumentality of Peter, (I Peter 5:13). He was a companion of Paul in his first missionary journey as far as Pam-Instrumentanty of Feter, (I Feter 5.16). He was a companion of Faul III his first missionary journey as far as Pamphylia, and then turned back, and went to Jerusalem; causing Barnabas and Paul to separate, (see Acts 13:13; 15:36-39). Mark's Gospel seems to have been written more especially for the gentile Christians. He omits all genealogical tables; and begins with the ministry of John, which leads speedily to the immersion of Jesus, His active ministry, and into the midst of His mighty works. His Gospel seems peculiarly suited to the Romans, who were so familiar with power. Jesus is here presented as the Servant of God, and as One busy in executing His will.

And, when He came out of the boat, straightway there met Him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit, who had his dwelling in the tombs; and no one could any longer bind him, not even with a chain; 4 because he had often been bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been torn asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces, and no one had strength to tame him. 5 And always, night and day, in the tombs and in the mountains, he was crying, and cutting himself with stones. 6 And, seeing Jesus afar off, he ran and worshiped Him; and, crying with a loud voice, he says, "What is there to me and Thee, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? GOSPEL ACCORDING TO LUKE.

Luke, the author of this Gospel, was also the author, or amanuensis, of the Holy Spirit, in the production of the Acts of the Apostles. (Acts 1:1). Luke was the "beloved physician," (Col. 4:14), and the traveling companion of Paulin several of his missionary journeys; and it is possible, if not probable, that Luke had Paul's sanction and approval to both this Gospel and to the Acts as well.

Luke does not profess to write as an eye-witness, but as one who carefully collected his material from those who were such. (Acts 1:1-4),

Though he has much in common with Matthew and Mark, he has much that the others do not record.

If Matthew's Gospel was written for the Jews, and Mark's for the Romans, Luke's seems to have been written for the whole world, but more particularly for the gentiles, (see Luke 4:25-27; 9:51-56; 17:15-19; 10:29-37; 14:15-24).

Luke has considerable matter not found in any of the other Gospels; but as no one of the writers of these Gospels professes to give all that Jesus did and said during His earthly ministry, this does not militate against the credibility of Luke's Gospel, or of any of the others.

GOSPEL ACCORDING TO JOHN.

John's Gospel has much more to say about the divinity of Jesus than all the other three evangelists. John was one of the three apostles who made up the "cabinet" of Jesus; Peter and James being the other two. These three witnessed the raising of Jairus' daughter, (Mark 5:37); the transfiguration, (Matt. 17:1); and the agony in the garden, (Matt. 8:37). John is frequently called "the disciple whom Jesus loved." He occupied the place next to Jesus at the last passover, (John 13:23).

John's Gospel comes last in the list, and was probably written after the destruction of Jerusalem. His Gospel has comparatively little in common with the other Gospels. Matthew, Mark, and Luke, were more concerned about the ministry of Jesus in Galilee; while John had more to do with that in and near Jerusalem.

The chief characteristic of John's Gospel is seen in the fact that he gives a much fuller account of the discourses of Jesus in which He unfolds His Own divine person and office, together with the great possibility, on the part of the believer, of being indwelt by the Spirit. Son, and Father, (John 41; 14:17, 20, 21, 23; 15:4, 5; 17:23, 28); in other words. John dwells more on the subjective knowledge of God, while the other evangelists deal with the objective knowledge of film. This difference is radical, as it has to do with the highest development of Christian character. The others were concerned chiefly about salvation; but John, about the more abundant life. concerned chiefly about salvation; but John, about the more abundant life.

JOHN'S FURTHER TESTIMONY TO JESUS.

22 After these things came Jesus and His disciples into the land of Judæa; and there He was tarrying with them, and immersing. 23 And John also was immersing in Ænon near Salim, because there was much water there; and they were coming and being immersed. 24 For John had not yet been cast into prison. 25 There arose, therefore, a question, on the part of John's disciples with a Jew, about purification. 26 And they came to John, and said to him, "Rabbi, He Who was with you beyond the Jordan, to Whom you have borne testimony, behold, He is immersing, and all are coming to Him." 27 John answered and said, "A man can receive nothing, unless it has been given to him from Heaven. 28 Ye yourselves bear me testimony, that I said, 'I am not the Christ, but that I have been sent before Him.' 29 He who has the bride is the bridegroom; but the friend of the bridegroom who stands and hears him greatly rejoices because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy, therefore, has been made full. 30 He must increase, but I must decrease. 31 He That cometh from above is above be reproved; 21 but he that does the truth from Heaven is above all. 32 What He hath seen, and what He heard, of this He

If anyone serve Me, him will My Father honor. 27 Now My soul has become troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save Me from this hour. But for this cause came I to this hour. 28 Father, glorify Thy Name!" There came, therefore, a voice out of Heaven, "I both glorified it, and will glorify it again." 29 Isaiah said again, 40 "He hath blinded The multitude, therefore, who stood by and heard it, said that it had thundered; others said, "An angel has spoken to Him." 30 Jesus answered and said, "This voice has not come for My sake, but for your sakes. 31 Now is the judgment of this world; now will the Prince of this world be cast out; 32 and I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to Myself." 33 But this He said, signifying by what manner of death tude, therefore, answered Him, "We and said, "He who believes on Me, be-He was about to die. 34 The multihave heard out of the law that the Christ abideth forever; and how sayest Thou that the Son of Man must be lifted up? Who is This Son of Man?" 35 Jesus, therefore, said to them, "Yet a little while is the Light among you. - 26 Let him follow Me; as well in the way of suffering, as in obedience to all His moral and spiritual commands. If we would be glorified with Him, and reign with Him, we must suffer with Him. (Rom. 8:17; II Tim. 2:11, 12).
 - 27 For this cause; for the purpose of suffering.
- 28 I both glorified it; at the immersion of Jesus, and on the mount of transfiguration, (Matt. 3:17; 17:5). And will glorify it; in His resurrection, ascension, and His investiture with "all power."
- 31 Now is the judgment of this world; in the crucifixion of Christ, so soon to follow, judgment would be pronounced against the world in the Person of Christ on the cross; the iniquities of us all being laid upon Him, (Isa. 53:6; II Cor. 5:14, 21; I Peter 2:24). The world was judged and executed, judicially, in the condemnation and execution of Christ.
 - 32 Lifted up; on the cross, (ch. 3:14, 15).
- 34 Heard out of the law; in the Old Testament Scriptures, (see Isa. 9:7; Dan. 2:24; 7:14.) But they seem never to have read Isa. 53:1-12, nor to have studied the sin and trespass offerings under the law.

These things spake Jesus, and, going though He had done so many signs before them, they were not believing on Him; 38 that the word of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which He spake, "Lord, who believed our report? and to whom was the arm of the Lord revealed?" 39 On this account they could not believe, because their eyes, and He hardened their heart, lest they should see with their eyes, and understand with their heart, and turn, and

41 These things Isaiah said, because he saw His glory; and he spake of Him. 42 Yet, however, even from among the rulers, many believed on Him; but, because of the Pharisees, they did not confess Him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue; 43 for they loved the glory of men, rather than the glory of God. 44 And Jesus cried, lieves not on Me, but on Him Who sent Me; 45 and he that beholds Me, beholds Him Who sent Me. 46 I have come a light into the world, that every one who believes on Me may not abide in the darkness. 47 And, if any one hears My words, and keeps them not, I do not judge him; for I came, not to judge the world, but to save the world. 48 He who rejects Me, and receives not My words, has one that judges him: the word that I spake, the

- 40 Blinded their eyes; not by exercising any miraculous power on them; but the truth that they heard and rejected was the cause of their blindness. The preaching of the Gospel is a savor of life unto life, or of death unto death, (II Cor. 2:15, 16).
 - 41 He saw His glory; the glory of the Messiah; Isa. 6:1.
- 42 Believed on Him; believed that He was the Messiah. Did not confess Him; did not publicly own Him.
- 44 Not on Me; not on Me only, but also on the Father. The Father and the Son are so one, that whosoever believes truly in the Son, believes also in the Father.

2 Every branch in Me; every believer in Christ. That bears not fruit; that does not live a godly life. He taketh away; as fruit is the object of the husbandman, the fruitless branch is cut off, as, not only worthless, but in the way. He cleanseth it; the fruit-bearing branch is freed from all hindrances, that it may bear more fruit. So God cleanses His children by His word and by His Spirit, that they may bear more fruit.

¹⁹ I sanctify Myself; I devote Myself to the one great object of putting away sin, and opening the fountain of life and cleansing. The word sanctify, as in ch. 10:36, has the Old Testament sense of the word: viz., to set apart, to devote, etc. Jesus was, personally, always "holy, harmless, undefiled, and separate from sinners," (Heb. 7:26)

²¹⁻²³ That they all may be one; Christ has provided that all true believers may, through a vital and unhindered union with Himself in this life, put on His own life, nature, and holiness; and so become one in Him. Christians who hold on to the self-life make it impossible for the Savior's prayer to be answered, so far as they are concerned. The believer, who yields himself wholly to God, and comes to be filled with the Holy Trinity, is answering, so far as he is concerned, this wonderful prayer of the Savior. Beloved reader, will you hinder this prayer by keeping control of yourself, rather than giving all to God?

Jesus, does not claim in his answer to love Jesus, or to be more loyal to Him, than any of the rest. He does not that His love for John was not a temporary affection, but answer Jesus in the use of the same verb that Jesus used in continuous. His question (which is Agapao); but he uses altogether a different word (Phileo-which denotes friendship). Probably Peter meant to use a stronger word than the one Jesus used; using, as he did, phileo instead of agapao throughout. Let no one suppose, however, that agapao is a feeble word; for it was strong enough to induce the Father to give His Son for the redemption of mankind, (ch. 3:16). Peter had a wonderfully responsible ministry before him, in feeding the lambs, tending (or shepherding), and feeding the sheep. Besides this, he was to be a successful fisher of men.

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

Luke, the writer of the third Gospel, is the writer also of the Acts, (Acts I:1). He appears as the traveling companion of Paul in ch. XVI:10-17, and from ch. XX:5 to the close of the book. He gives an outline of Peter's principal works, with incidents in the labors of others, from ch. II—XII. From ch. XIII—XXIII, Paul is the principal figure. The book appears to have been written about A. D. 64.

SAUL PERSECUTING CHRISTIANS.

1 And Saul was approving of his death. And there arose on that day a great persecution against the assembly which was in Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad throughout the countries of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles. 2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him. But Saul was laying waste the assembly, entering house after house; and, dragging men and women, was committing them to prison.

And then were the days of unleavened bread. , 4 And, having seized him, he put him in prison, delivering him to four quaternions of soldiers to guard him; intending, after the passover, to bring him up to the people. 5 Peter, therefore, was kept in the prison; but prayer was being earnestly made by the assembly to God in his behalf. And, when Herod was about to bring him forth, in that night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains; and guards before the door were keeping the prison. 7 And, behold, an angel of the Lord stood by him, and a light shined in the cell; and, smiting the side of Peter, he raised him up, saying, "Rise up quickly!" But she kept confidently affirming that it was so. And they said. "It is his angel." 16 But Peter continued knocking; and, opening, they saw him, and were amazed. 17 But, beckoning to them with his hand to be silent, he declared to them, how the Lord brought him forth out of the prison. And he said, "Declare these things to James, and to the brethren." And, going forth, he went to another place. 18 And, when it became day, there was no small commotion among the soldiers, as to what, consequently, became of Peter. 19 And Herod, having sought for him, and not finding him, having examined the guards, ordered that they be led away to death. And, going down from Judea to

FESTUS WISHING PAUL TO GO TO JERUSA-LEM, HE APPEALS TO CÆSAR.

1 Festus, therefore, having come to the province, after three days went up to Jerusalem from Cæsarea; 2 and the high priests and chief men of the Jews informed him against Paul, and were beseeching him, 3 asking it as a favor against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, making an ambush, to kill him on the way. 4 Festus, therefore, answered, that Paul was held at Cæsarea, and that he himself was about shortly to go out thither. 5 "Let those, therefore, among you," said he, who are able, going down with me, accuse him, if there is anything amiss in him.

6 And, having spent among them not more than eight or ten days, he went down to Cæsarea; and, on the morrow, sitting on the judgment-seat, he ordered Paul to be brought. 7 And, when he presented himself, the Jews who came down from Jerusalem stood around him, bringing many and grievous charges, which they were not able to prove; 8 Paul saying in his defense, "Neither against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Cæsar, did I commit any sin."

9 But Festus, wishing to gain favor with the Jews, answering, said to Paul, "Are you willing, having gone up to Jerusalem, to be judged there concerning these things before me?" 10 And Paul said, standing at Cæsar's judgment-seat, where I ought to be judged. To the Jews I have done no wrong, as you also very well know. 11 If, therefore, I am a wrongdoer, and have perpetrated anything worthy of death, I refuse not to die; but, if "To-morrow," said he, "you shall hear there is nothing in the things of which him." these accuse me, no one can deliver me as a favor to them. KING AGRIPPA HEARS PAUL.

13 And, some days having elapsed, Agrippa the king, and Bernice, came to Cæsarea to salute Festus. 14 And, as they were spending several days there, Festus laid before the king the things relating to Paul, saying, "There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix; concerning whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the high priests and elders of the Jews gave information, asking for sentence against him: 16 to whom I made answer, 'It is not a custom with Romans to grant as a favor any man, before the accused has the accuser face to face, and has opportunity to answer for himself concerning the charge laid against him. 17 When, therefore, they came together here, I, making no delay, the next day, sitting on the judgment-seat, ordered the man to be brought; 18 concerning whom, the accusers, standing up, were bringing no accusation of evils such as I was supposing; 19 but certain questions concerning their peculiar religion they had against him, and concerning a certain Jesus, who was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive. 20 And, being perplexed in regard to the inquiry concerning these things, I asked whether he was willing to go to Jerusalem, and there be judged concerning these things. I am 21 But, as Paul appealed to be held for the decision of Augustus, I ordered, that he be held, until I should send him up to Cæsar.'"

EPISTLE TO THE ROMANS.

The epistle to the Romans was written by Paul (about the year 58, or 60, A. D.), while on his way to Jerusalem, bearing with him the contributions of the assemblies in Macedonia and Achaia to the poor saints in Jerusalem, (Rom. 15:25, 26; Acts 24:17). It was probably written at Corinth, (see ch. 16:23; Gaius being a resident of Corinth); and it was borne to Rome by Phœbe, a resident of Cenchrea, the eastern port of Corinth. Paul had never visited Rome at the time this letter was written, (ch. 1:10-15); nor do we know who planted the assembly there. There is no Scripture proof, nor any reliable historical, that Peter ever saw Rome.

corinth, the capital of Actaia, a province of Rome, was student on the Istimus that connects the southern Peninsula of Greece with the northern portion. It had two ports; Leabeum on the west, and Cenchrea on the east. The city was noted for its wealth and progress in the arts and sciences, and equally so for its luxury and dissoluteness. Paul labored here a year and six months (Acts 18:11), and had gathered a considerable assembly of Jewish and gentile converts. The gentile portion of the membership did not, for a time at least, escape their former heathenish vices. Party strifes were prevalent among them. Boastful teachers sprang up among them, and sought to lead the warmbers from the simplicity of the truth, densing the authority of Paul and seeking to support his sinches. members from the simplicity of the truth; denying the authority of Paul, and seeking to supplant him in the confidence and affection of the people.

Meanwhile, certain disorders and abuses had crept into their public meetings, especially in regard to the Lord's

NOTES ON CHAPTER VIII.

- 1 Things sacrificed to idols; or idol-sacrifices. A portion of the animal that was sacrificed, was reserved for the offerers to eat; and sometimes a portion of it was offered for sale, (ch. 10:25). We all have knowledge; that is, we know that an idol is nothing. Knowledge puffs up; mere knowledge without love.
- 3 The same becomes known by Him; God knoweth and careth for all who love and obey Him.
- That an idol is nothing; nothing of the least importance, since it is nothing but the visible representative of a vain and senseless fancy.
- 6 Of Whom are all things; God is the source of all material and immaterial existences. Through Whom; as Agent. The Son made all things, (John 1:3).

EPISTLE TO THE CORINTHIANS.

A. D. 60. This second epistle was written not a great while after the first—probably less than a year—in Macedonia, where, in connection with his preaching, the apostle was gathering up collections for the poor saints at Jerusalem. (chs. 8:1-5: 9:1-4). The occasion for writing this epistle was, probably, the report from Timothy (I Cor. 4:17), and Titus (ch. 7:6, 7), regarding the effect of the first epistle upon the assembly at Corinth. The report was favorable so far as the majority of the assembly was concerned. (ch. 7:6, 7). He was gratified at their prompt obedience; directs them to restore the incestuous man; discusses the matter of collections for the poor saints, (chs. 8 and 9).

But some of the assembly were embittered against the apostle, charging him with fickleness in changing his plans, (ch. 1:17); with moral cowardice, (ch. 10:9-11); of making gain of them, (ch. 12:16-18); and they evidently disparaged his apostolic claims, and impugned his integrity. This made it necessary for him to vindicate himself against all their charges; which he does in a masterly manner; and this personal vindication constitutes the peculiar feature of this epistle. We may thank God for the severe conditions that made it necessary for the apostle, though reluctantly, to detail his manner of life, his numerous labors and self-sacrifices, his multiplied hardships and perils, and the wonderful experiences he realized—especially in being caught up to the third Heaven. The epistle is replete with treasures, not for the Corinthian brethren alone, but for Christians of all ages.

EPISTLE TO THE GALATIANS.

The Greek Galatia, answering to the Latin Gallia (Gaul), was one of the central provinces of Asia Minor; and the people who inhabited it had immigrated thither about 280 B. C.: having crossed over from Thrace, and belonging to the race known as Gauls. The different assemblies or congregations of believers in Galatia were, probably, founded by Paul and his fellow-laborers. Paul made two missionary visits to Galatia, (Acts 16 6; 18:23). This epistle was meant to apply to all the assemblies which Paul had planted in Galatia. These assemblies began well, (ch. 5, 7), but Judaizing teachers came in, insisting that unless Gentile believers were circumcised, they could not be saved. (Acts 15:1); and it appears that they had great success in leading them from the simplicity of the Gospel To correct this great error, this epistle was written. It was probably written from Ephesus or Corinth, about A. D. 58.

CONTENTS.

I. Introductory address, (I:1-10): the salutation, (I:1-5); the Galatian departure from the truth, (I:6-10). II. Personal and historical retrospect: Paul's teachings received from God, not man, (I:11, 12), as proved; (a) from his education, (I:13, 14); (b) his conversion, (I:15-17); (c) his intercourse with the other apostles, (I:18-21; II:.-,0); (d) his conversion with Peter, (II:15-21). III. Inferiority of Judaism. or legal Christianity, to the doctrine of faith, (III:1-IV:1-31): (a) Galatians bewitched from a spiritual system to a carnal one, (III:-5); against the witness of Abraham, (III:6-9); that faith alone can save, (III:10-14); (b) promise made to faith not annulled by the law. (III:5-18); the law being disciplinary (III:19-29), and tutelary, (IV:1-7); (c) past zeal of the Galatians contrasted with their present coldness, (IV:12-20); (d) allegory of Isaac and Ishmael, (IV:21-31). IV Hortatory application, (V.1-VI:10): (a) Christian liberty excludes Judaism. (V:1-12); (b) liberty, not license, but love, (V:18-15): (c) works of the fiesh and Spirit contrasted, (V:16-26); (d) duty of sympathy, (VI:1-5); (e) liberality, (VI:6-10). V. Conclusion, directed against the Judaizers, (VI:11-18).

EPISTLE TO THE EPHESIANS.

It appears that Paul was a prisoner, when he wrote this epistle, (ch. 3:1; 4:1); either at Rome, or at Cæsarea, probably the former. Paul's first visit to Ephesus is recorded in Acts 18:19-21. His stay was brief; and he left Apollos in charge, (vs. 24-26). After visiting Jerusalem and Asia Minor, he returned to Ephesus (Acts 19:1), where he remained three years, (Acts 20:31). On his last visit to Jerusalem, he sailed by Ephesus, (Acts 20:17). It was written probably about A. D. 62, or 63. The object of the epistle is general; the apostle having no error to refute as in his letter to the Galatians and the epistles to the Corinthians. This is one of the profoundest and richest of all his epis-

- 1 Imitators of God; in His love to men. It is as we let His love possess us, that we may, in a measure, imitate Him.
- 2 An odor of sweet smell; pleasing and acceptable to God.
- 3 Covetousness; a desire for more-usually applied to money or worldly possessions. Craving more is sinful in a pauper or millionaire.
- 4 Filthiness; obscenity in words or actions. Foolish talking; speaking idle words. How many Christians drive the Spirit from them because of their idle, empty words and silly jestings!
- 5 Who is an idolater: the covetous man is an idolater. He worships Mammon, and can have no inheritance in the Kingdom of God.
- 6 Let no man deceive you; by leading you to think that the persons described in v. 5 can enter Heaven.
- 8 Once darkness; before they accepted Christ they were living in ignorance and sin. Light in the Lord; believing on Christ, they were enlightened, purified, and became reflectors of the light of Christ to the world.

proof throws upon them their vileness is exposed. All that makes manifest is light; two readings are possible here; "All that is made manifest is light." The former seems preferable, as it is difficult to see how exposed vileness can itself become light.

- 14 He saith; God says in the teachings of his word. Awake, you who are sleeping; awake from your death-like slumbers in sin and pollution. Arise from the dead; from your position of death in sin, and trust in Jesus who will pardon you, and live His life in you, if you will let Him.
- 15 Buying up the opportunity; making the most of every opportunity; and even sacrificing all minor interests, that you may make most of your spiritual opportunities. The days are evil; evil surrounds us every day; and, unless we keep our wills centered in Jesus, and firmly set against all evil, we will not make the most of our opportunities.
- 18 Be not drunk with wine; drunkenness, whether on wine, strong drink, or opiates, is a great sin. In which is riot; the elements of riot are in the wine, and it shows itself in the conduct of the drunken one. Be filled with the Spirit; this is a command, and ought to be obeyed. The Christian should be habitually and freshly filled with the Holy Spirit; and he who fails to live the Spirit-filled life impoverishes himself immeasurably, and curtails his possibilities of greatest usefulness and happiness.

EPISTLE TO THE COLOSSIANS.

Colosse was a city in the south-western part of Phrygia, and not a great way from Laodicea and Hierapolis, (ch. 4:13). It would appear from ch. 2:1, that Paul wrote this letter before he had ever visited the Colossian brethern. It was probably written from Rome during Paul's first imprisonment; and, as in the case of the letter to the Ephesians, it was sent by Tychicus. (ch. 4:7, 8; Eph. 6:21, 22). The exact date on which this letter was written is not known, but different parties have put the time all the way from 61, to 64 A. D. In this epistic the apostle dwells on the dignity and glory of Christ's person, and brings out the great mystery of the indwelling Christ, and God's purpose to write a great mystery of the indwelling Christ, and God's purpose to unite under the Headship of Jesus Christ all things in Heaven and earth.

I. Salutation, thanksgiving, and prayer, (I:1-13). II. Doctrinal: (1) Christ our Redeemer, (I:14); the image of God, (v. 15); the Creator and Ruler of the universe, (vs. 16, 17); the Head of the assembly (v. 18), in Whom the whole God-head dwells, (v. 19); (2) To Him the Colossians owe their reconciliation (I:20-22), in which they should stand fast, (v. 23); the great mystery (vs. 24-27), of which Paul was an earnest minister, (vs. 28, 29-HI:1-5). III. Polemical: (1) Colossians warned to cling to Christ (II:6-10), and to spiritual circumcision, (vs. 11, 12); (2) Ordinances done away (II:13, 11), triumphing over rulers and authorities, (v. 15); (3) Colossians not to submit to circumcision (II:16, 17), nor to angel worship, (vs. 18, 19); (4) They have died with Christ to ordinances (II:20-23), and have risen to a heavenly life, (III:1-4). IV. Hortatory: (1) All evil passions, to be put off (III:5-11), and all graces of the Spirit to be put on, (vs. 12-17); (2) Domestic, (III:18-IV:1); other duties, (vs. 2-6). V. Personal: (1) Tychicus would explain, (IV:7-9); (2) Salutations, (IV:10-15); a message, (vs. 16, 17); (3) Farewell, (v. 18).

That the word Prototokos should have some such meaning as Primal Source, or Primeval Creator, seems apparent from the verse that follows it; for to translate it "First-born," and then add the words, "Because in Him were created all things," etc., can scarcely be conceived of as making any sense; whereas, if it is translated as above suggested, it not only makes sense, but it is in perfect harmony with John 1:3; Heb. 1:2, and Rev. 3:14.

The difficulty has grown out of the accent of the adjective Prototokos; the Lexicographers and editors of the

EPISTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

Thessalonica, now Saloniki, situated at the head of the Thermaic gulf, was the capital of one of the four divisions of the Roman province of Macedonia. Driven from Philippi, Paul visited Thessalonica, and preached the Gospel to the people for a short time. (see Acts 17:1-9). After a brief stay in Thessalonica, he was driven out of the city by the angry Jews to Beræa, and from Beræa to Athens. It was probably written at Corinth about A. D. 52.

EPISTLE TO THE THESSALONIANS.

The second epistle to the Thessalonians seems to have been written shortly after the first, and from the same place—Corinth. The main design of the epistle was to correct some misapprehensions they had received in regard to the second coming of the Lord; and, in doing this, the apostle gives a very graphic view of ' the man of sin," and exhorts them to fidelity and steadfastness amid all their trials.

CONTENTS.

I. Opening salutation, (I:1, 2). II. Correction of the error regarding the second advent, (I:3-II:1-16): (1) Thanksgiving, (I:3, 4); (2) Encouragement to endure their trials in view of the coming judgment (I:5-10), and prayer, (I:11, 12); (3) The advent must be preceded by the appearance of "the man of sin" (II:1-5), the restraining power must be removed (II:6, 7), the lawless one and his followers destroyed, (II:8-12; Rev. 19:19-21; Zech. 14:12-15); (4) Further exhortation and prayer, (II:13-17). III. Practical, (IIII:1-16): (1) Prayer for himself and the Thessalonians. (III:1-5); (2) Instructions to the idle and disorderly (III:6-15), and prayer, (III:16); (3) Conclusion, (III:17, 18).

EPISTLE TO TIMOTHY.

The epistles to Timothy and Titus are known as pastoral epistles, because they treat so fully on the duties of the pastor. It is not known at just what time this epistle was written, though it appears most likely that it was written after his first imprisonment at Rome, in A. D. 64; and about the year A. D., 65, or possibly a little later.

EPISTLE TO TIMOTHY.

This epistle was written from Rome, when Paul was nearing the close of his second imprisonment, and shortly trills epistic was written from Kome, when rate was hearing the close of his second imprisonment, and shortly before his execution, (ch. 4:6). Many of his friends, not wishing to imperil their lives by showing their friendship to him as a prisoner, forsook him, (1:15; 4:10). Needing the presence and help of Timothy, he writes, urging him to come at once, and to bring certain articles he had left at Troas. Feeling that his end was near, he improved the opportunity by giving Timothy more valuable instruction, and his final apostolic counsel and encouragement. The cpistle was written A. D. 67, or 68.

EPISTLE TO TITUS.

Titus was another traveling companion of Paul, and served as an assistant to the apostle. He was of gentile origen, (Gal. 2:3). He performed some valuable service for Paul, as seen in II Cor. 7:13, 14; 8:6, 16-19, 22-24, about the year A. D. 57. Several years after this, he is found in Crete, having a pastoral charge; and this epistle was addressed to him at Crete. It is not known at what date or from what place this epistle was written; but as it is a pastoral letter, it is supposed that it was written about the time of the epistles to Timothy, or about A. D. 65, or 66.

EPISTLE TO PHILEMON.

This epistle was sent from Rome to Collosse by Onesimus at the same time the epistle to the Colossians, of which Tychicus was the bearer, (Col. 4:9). It is addressed to Philemon, a prominent Christian at Colosse. The letter is a plea for Onesimus, a servant of Philemon, who had left his master, having probably robbed him of some of his goods. (v. 18); but, having met Paul at Rome, he was converted; and, under the influence of the new life he had received in Christ, he returns to his master to fulfill all his duties as a servant. This epistle has been greatly admired for its courtesy, delicacy, and tact.

EPISTLE TO THE HEBREWS.

The epistle to the Hebrews has been ascribed to Paul by the great mass of Biblical writers. Some few have ascribed it to Barnabas; and others, to Apollos. It is impossible, in the absence of any signature, or any statement showing who its author was, to determine who was God's amanuensis in the production of this wonderfully instructive book. It is thought to have been written between A. D. 67 and 70.

I. Christianity superior to Judaism. in the Person of its founder; all previous revelations culminating in Christ, (I:1-3): 1. His superiority to angels, (I:4-14)—hence we should not let His salvation slip, (II:1-4). This superiority not lessened by reason of His temporary humiliation, (II:5-18); which had for its object (a) to deliver men from death, (II:10-15); and (b) to fit Him to be a sympathizing Priest. (II:16-18); 2. Christ is superior to servants like Moses and Joshua: He is a Son, and Moses a servant. (III:1-6) [unbelievers of the New dispensation should take warning from those of the Old, (III:7-19)]. The promised rest still open to believers (IV:1-10), who should be careful not to lose it (IV:11-13), having a sympathetic High Priest, (IV:14-16). II. Christianity superior to Judaism in its High Priesthood; Christ being superior to Aaron and the Aaronic priesthood: 1. Like them He is sympathetic, (V:1-8); 2. Like them He was called to His office, (V:4-6); 3. After the order of Melchizedek, (V:6-10)—He became the Aaubor of salvation. (v. 9). The Hebrews should press forward, (VI:1-3). No recovery for the lapsed, (VI:4-8). For those who lapse not the promises are sure, (VI:9-20); 4. The order of Melchizedek greater than that of Aaron; for Abraham paid tithes to Melchizedek, (VII:1-0); and the Aaronic priesthood is superceded by Melchisedek's Successor, (VII:1-19); Who is appointed by an oath, a Perfect and Eternal High Priest, (VII:20-28). III. Christianity is superior to Judaism in the nature of its ministrations: 1. Christ is High Priest, (VII:20-28). III. Christianity is superior to Judaism in the nature of its ministrations: 1. Christ is High Priest, and ceremonies of atonement, transitory and imperfect, (IX:1-10); 3. Christ the Reality of which these things were types, (IX:11-14); having sealed the New Covenant with His death and blood, (IX:15-29); in everything His atonement being higher, (IX:23-28); 4. The repetition of the old sacrifices showed their want of efficacy, (X:1-8); Christ's sacrifice monitions, prayer, and salutation, (XIII:16-25).

GENERAL EPISTLE OF JAMES.

That the person here alluded to, whom Paul calls an apostle, and "the Lord's brother" (Gal. 1:19), and who is confessedly identical with the James mentioned in Acts 12:17; 15:13; 21:18, is the writer of this epistle, has been generally conceded; but whether he is the same with James the son of Alphaeus who was one of the twelve, (Matt. 10:3), is a question that has never been fully settled. The chief objection to this view is, that, if he were the son of Alphaeus, he could not be "the Lord's brother"; while the argument for his being identical with the son of Alphaeus is, that if he was not identical with the son of Alphaeus, there were three apostles bearing the name James—which would seem to make thirteen apostles instead of only twelve. Those who contend for the identity of "the Lord's brother" with James the son of Alphaeus, make James the son of Alphaeus a coustn. Instead of a brother, of our Lord. We have no James the son of Alphæus, make James the son of Alphæus a cousin. instead of a brother, of our Lord. We have no means of determining just how this is, and we leave it. James was a man of prominence among the apostles and brethern. Paul recognized him as one of the "pillars" (Gal. 2:9), being mentioned before Peter and John. The date of the epistle is uncertain, though it was probably written not many years before the destruction of Jerusalem, where it was manifestly written, probably about A. D. 60.

FIRST EPISTLE OF PETER.

This epistle is addressed to the "elect sojourners of the Dispersion of Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bythinia," provinces of Rome in Asia Minor. The occasion of the epistle seems to have been a "fiery trial" of persecution that was coming upon the Christians in the provinces above named. The exact date of this persecution has not cution that was coming upon the Christians in the provinces above named. The exact date of this persecution has not been satisfactorily ascertained, though the majority of commentators ascribe it to the latter years of Nero's reign, which terminated A. D. 68. This epistle has been a source of encouragement and comfort to many of God's people during all the centuries since it was written. It purports to have been written from Babylon, but many suppose that Peter used the word in allusion to Rome, but wished to disguise the locality. This seems scarcely possible to one who knew that he was to lose his life for his devotion, and knew something of the evil of lying.

Ch. I. Salutation. (I:1.2); the future blessedness that awaits the saints makes their present sufferings light, (vs. 3-12); encouragement to live holy lives as they have been redeemed with the precious blood of Christ, (vs. 13-21); as regenerate men they should love one another, (vs. 22-25). Ch. II. They should realize their high calling, (vs. 1-10); their lives should disprove all gentile calumnies, (vs. 11, 12); they should be loyal citizens, (vs. 13-17); as servants of Christ, they should be good and faithful, (vs. 18-25). Ch. III. Admonition to wives, to be chaste and simple in dress, (vs. 1-6); instruction to husbands, (v. 7); admonition to them all, (vs. 8-22). Ch. IV. As Christians, they should no longer live as libertines, but as those prepared to meet Christ in the judgment, (vs. 1-6); they should be charitable, hospitable, liberal, (vs. 7-11); they should rejoice in the privilege of suffering for Christ, (vs. 12-19). Ch. V. Manifold exhortations, (vs. 1-11); salutations, (vs. 12-14).

SECOND EPISTLE OF PETER.

From ph. 1:14, we learn that this epistle was written but a short time before the close of the apostle's life; and the contents of the letter agree with this thought. It is an earnest warning against the many errors in doctrine and morals that had crept into the assemblies thus early. A portion of ch. 2 has a striking resemblance to a part of Jude's epistle. As the most prominent feature of the first epistle is, "Patience and steadfastness in the endurance of suffering for Christ's sake"; so that of the second is a solemn warning "Not to be led astray by the error of the wicked." This epistle was probably written about A. D. 66.

CONTENTS.

Ch. I. Salutation, (vs. 1, 2); exhortation to progress in knowledge, (vs. 3, 4); growth in character-development, (vs. 5-11); impressed by one who witnessed the transfiguration of Christ, (vs. 12-18); and confirmed by prophecy. (vs. 19-21). Ch. II. False prophets and teachers and their dreadful doom, (vs. 1-9); presumptious, self-willed, corrupt and licentious teachers abound, and deceive many, (vs. 10-21). Ch. III. Further warning against those who appeal to the unchanged condition of things, to cast doubt upon Christ's coming, (vs. 1-4); the certainty of his coming, (vs. 5-10); a strong motive to holiness of life, (vs. 11-14); as Paul teaches, (vs. 15, 16); concluding exhortations, (vs. 17, 18).

FIRST EPISTLE OF JOHN.

The three epistles of John were early received as canonical. This epistle is supposed to have been written about A. D. 85-90, at Ephesus, and forms a sort of "Companion to the Gospel." It is wonderfully helpful to the honest Christian who seeks to be assured of his salvation, and to live on high Christian ground.

Chs. I, II. Firm historical foundation of the Gospel, (I:1-4): walking in the light of fellowship with God brings forgiveness and freedom from sin, (I:5-II:1-11); while it separates from the world (II:12-17), and from anti-Christian doctrine, (II:18-28); the Holy Spirit being the Infallible Teacher. Chs. III, IV The exalted prospect of the Christian pledges him to a life of righteousness and love (III:1-18), and to unshaken faith in Christ (III:19-IV:1-6), of which faith and love for the brethren are the practical expressions, (IV:7-21). Ch. V. Faith, obedience, and love to God and man are inseparable, (vs. 1-4); the three-fold witness, (vs. 5-12); Christian confidence, (vs. 13-21).

I. JOHN. CHAPTER I.

1 That which was from the beginning, that which we have heard, that which we have seen with our eyes, that which we have fellowship with Him, and are walkgazed upon, and our hands handled, concerning the Word of Life (2 and the Life was manifested, and we have seen, and bear witness, and declare to you The Eternal Life; Who, indeed, was with the Father, and was manifested to us); that which we have seen and heard we declare to you also, that ye also may have fellow- and the truth is not in us. 9 If we conship with us; and our fellowship also is fess our sins, He is faithful and righteous with the Father, and with His Son Jesus to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us Christ. 4 And these things we write, that from all unrighteousness. 10 If we say, your joy may be made full.

God's people should be full of joy and gladness-so full, in fact, that no gloom, sadness, or melancholy, can ever have any more place in them; and the way to have it so is, to yield the life wholly to God, and learn to walk in the light the golden text of every child of God, as it is God's recipe with God every day, having unbroken fellowship with the Father and with His Son. Have no need that anyone teach you; it is the supreme office of the Holy Spirit to teach believers the Gospel of Christ; revealing to them Christ Himself, and through Christ bringing them to know the Father also, (John 17:3; Eph. 3:16-19). No one can take the place of the Holy Spirit as Teacher; nor can anyone teach the things that He specifically imparts to those who have received Him as their Teacher. SECOND EPISTLE OF JOHN.

Whether this letter was addressed to a lady and her children, or to an assembly, has never been determined. This, however, does not affect the teachings of the letter itself. The apostle enjoins a discriminating love, that distinguishes sharply between truth and error, and does not permit itself to aid and abet error by misapplied kindnesses towards its teachers. Loyalty to God, love of truth, and consistent opposition to error, are the main points in the letter. There is no means of knowing when the letter was written.

The apostle writes to Gaius, commending to him certain brethren who were strangers in the place where he fived. It appears that these brethren were trying to preach the Gospel to the gentiles without charge, (which was the universal practice with God's ministers during the early age of Christianity); but they seem to have received ill-treatment at the hands of Diotrephes, who also opposed those in the assembly who favored the reception of these evangelists, though they had been commended by the apostle himself.

REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST TO THE APOSTLE JOHN.

The author of this book is named John, (ch. 1:1, 4.9); who, beyond doubt, is the apostle John, the author of the Gospel and the three epistles bearing his name. The date at which it was written is not known, but it was probably between the years 85 and 95, A. D., as that covers the major part of the reign of Domitian, under whom, it is generally agreed. John was banished to the isle of Patmos. The interpretation of the book has been acknowledged to be a very difficult task; and many have been the schemes of interpretation sought to be applied. That combination which makes it because of the pattern of the control of the property of the combination which makes it because of the pattern of the control of the control of the combination which makes it historical to the close of chapter III, and future from ch. VI and on, seems most satisfactory.

N. B.-If we understand the seven seals to follow the rapture, we avoid the endless difficulty and confusion that attend the system of interpretation that seeks to find events in past history answering to the different seals. If the Laodicean church closes church history up to the rapture, then it is easy to see that the seven seals, the seven trumpets, and the seven bowls of wrath, mark different angelic forces that have a part in the execution of the events that occur between the rapture and the coming of providential events connected with the redemptive work Christ with His saints, to destroy the armies of the beast of Jesus Christ. If we regard, with some, the living Crea-(Zech. 14:4-12; Rev. 19:11-21), and to open the way for the tures as belonging to the redeemed, they would represent establishment of His Millennial reign. Christendom at large, being unprepared for the rapture, will be left behind to confront the evils of the tribulation period. A thousand two hundred and sixty; this period would answer to the first half of Daniel's "Seventieth week," (Dan. 9:34-27); or it would be three and a half years. During this time, after the rapture, Satan will probably be too busy in organizing the world under one government, to persecute Christians with the greatest vigor.

- 1 A beast; the symbol of a cruel, murderous man, the leader, under Satan, of the mighty hosts that destroy the saints, and desolate the earth, during the great tribulation. That the beast is a man, and not a system, or an army, may be seen from ch. 19:19, 20; 20:10; where the beast and false prophet are captured, and are dealt with as individuals, apart from their armies. In the year-day prophecy of Daniel, we have, as it appears, the prototype of this of 1260 years, when they persecuted and destroyed millions destructive agent, (Dan. 7:24, 25). Ancient Babylon was the great foe to the religion of the Israelites during the Old Testament times; and the same name is applied to the great persecuting power that opposes Christianity-which seems to point to Catholicism. It fell, it fell, Babylon the great; how true is it that this monster evil has made the nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication! Babylon is here represented as a harlot holding in her hand a wine-cup, and making the nations drink of it, (Jer. 25:15-28). CHAPTER XXI.

1 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth passed away, and the sea is no more. 2 And I saw the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready as a bride adorned for her husband. 3 And I heard a great voice out of the throne, saying, "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He will dwell with them, and they will be His peoples, and God Himself will be with them, as their God. 4 And He will wipe away every tear from their eyes. And death shall be no more; neither mourning, nor crying, nor pain, shall be any more; because the first things passed away."

5 And He Who sits upon the throne said, "Behold, I make all things new."

NOTES ON CHAPTER XXI.

This chapter gives us a glowing and thrilling description of the new heaven and new earth, and especially of the New Jerusalem, the abode of the blessed. This is another fire. John in his vision had passed on to the end, and now dispensation that follows the final, or white throne, judgment, (Rev. 20:11-15).

- This shows a wonderful improvement in the environments 22:1, 2; John 4:14; 7:38. of the saints. The sea is no more; this language seems to be literal; and, if it is, the vast expanse of waters that now covers so much of the earth's surface will be dried up-to oped in him, (Eph. 4:13). Shall inherit these things; shall make room, likely, for the teaming billions that are to in-inherit a place in the New Jerusalem with right to the habit it.

- 14 Death and Hades were east into the lake of fire; here
- 15 Lake of fire; the abode of the wicked. In vain will we search for any Scripture that reverses this final judgment of God. The thought of dwelling, ceaselessly, in a lake of fire is unspeakably horrid; but God's word seems clearly to teach it; and those who accept the Bible as His word should not rebel at this teaching. God alone knows the infinite magnitude of the guilt of sin; and He alone knows what punishment is due to it.

And He saith to me, "Write; because these words are faithful and true."

- 6 And He said to me, "It3 has come to pass. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. I will give to him that thirsted of the fountain of the water of life freely. 7 He that overcomes shall inherit these things; and I will be to him a God, and He will be to Me a son. 8 But, for the fearful, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and fornicators, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all the liars, their part shall be in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone; which is the second death."
- 9 And there came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls that were full of the seven last plagues, and spake with me, saying, "Come hither; I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb."
 - 3 Or, they have come to pass.

DIVISIONS OF THE DAY.

The natural day, reckoned from sunrise to sunset, was divided into twelve hours, (John 11:9). The civil day was measured from sunset to sunset. The night, by the later Jews, was divided into four watches; the first from 6:00 to 9:00 p. m., the second from 9:00 to midnight, the third, called cock crowing, three hours from midnight, and the fourth, or morning watch, thence till sunrise.
